

There isn't much to this one. It will be much like a March Madness contest in which you will choose all the winners of all the bowl games. You will give each game a value. There are 30+ games and you will give each one it's own value ranking.

A spreadsheet will be available during the entry time period on the website, or you can have one emailed to you. Simply fill out the form and email it back. That's it. Watch the games and return to see how well you are doing against the pack.

$10 entry and hopefully we can pay out at least the top 3. First 10 entries pay out to the champion for a $100 prize minimum.

The spreadsheet is set for you to fill out your name and pick a total score in the national championship game in case of a tie. Closest to the exact total score will prevail. (high or low)

As always, thanks for playing and hope your having fun.
